The grand jury at Ryan found 34 indictments.

However much you may wish your party had won it is the same old country, and the best the sun shines upon.

It is said that an intoxicating drink can be made from the loco weed. That ought to be good enough for the Indian Territory.

In Belshazzar's triumphal hour was when he saw that hand writing on the wall. The same hand-writing is a menace to all triumphs not used with moderation.

For Memphis and all points east and southeast take the Choctaw Route. Two daily fast trains, vestibuled, pullman sleepers, free reclining chair cars, gas lighted and steam heated.

Now that the election is over let us all go to work and make Chickasha so pretty and lovable that we will want to shake hands with her the first thing in the morning and the last thing at night.

Missouri carried the proposed amendment to the constitution allowing St. Louis to issue a million dollars of bonds for the World's Fair to be held then in 1903. This will assure the big fair at St. Louis.

All points in Tennessee, Mississippi, Alabama, Georgia, North and South Carolina best made by the Choctaw Route. Two fast trains daily, make close connections at convenient hours at Memphis with trains in all directions.

The democrats of the Indian territory have been struggling for eight years to get recognition in congress and failed. Let them lay aside politics and attempt to get recognition by joining with the republicans of Oklahoma. Both parties want recognition. They can take up the fight afterward.

A report was circulated this week arising from an article in the Kansas City Journal, that U. S. marshals would no longer be allowed to make arrests except in cases of capital crime. This report originated in the refusal to pay United States fees in some classes of cases, holding that the Arkansas fees should be allowed instead.

Congressman Catchings of Mississippi has uttered a sentiment which the bleeding democracy should bind as a tablet on its riven heart, which the same it is this:

Drop free silver, drop fashionism, drop the cry of government by injunction, drop the cry of imperialism and militarism, drop all discussion about the Philippines until peace has been restored; drop appeals to the passions and prejudices of the idle and discontented. Revive the federal question of taxation, teach the Democratic doctrine that people cannot be made rich by taxing them, assail the favoritism and wrongs of a high protective tariff, stand for the control of trusts and combines by methods not oppressive; demand enlargement of the powers of the interstate commerce commission and the liberal improvements of harbors and insist on local self-government and let the next presidential candidate remain at home during the campaign.

The democratic party might work from now until 1904 and it couldn't find a more sensible and comprehensive platform than that.

A TERRIBLE ACCIDENT.

Little Claude Vaughn Was Fatally Shot Sunday Afternoon

Yesterday morning word was brought to the city that Claude, the second youngest son of Ben. J. Vaughn, had accidentally shot and killed himself while out hunting with his youngest brother, Oscar. At this writing we have no positive information or full particulars, but from what we can learn the boys were out hunting, Oscar, the youngest, having no gun. The two were separated by a little patch of brushy ground when Oscar heard the gun's report and looking, saw his brother falling from his horse. He went at once for help and the injured one was taken home at once. The whole load of shot had entered the side of the head. He lived about two hours, and while seemingly conscious could not speak. His body was buried yesterday afternoon at the cemetery on the Little Washita by the side of his mother who died eight years ago. Rev. Cameron officiating with services at the grave. Claude was 13 years old, and one of a family of four boys, whose mother died while the youngest, Oscar, was a mere babe. These boys have been under the care of the father since, who has been a father and mother to them—and has nobly filled the place. They are all bright and noble boys and the idols of the father who has educated and given them every advantage to be obtained. The boys were particular friends of the editor and Mrs. Dawson and almost always came in to see them when they were in town, and we knew them well, and loved them as they did their own. Claude was of a quiet disposition, and studious and industrious. Our hearts go out in the deepest sympathy to stricken father and the step-mother whom the boys loved as their own, and to the brothers who were always together. The family were well known in the city and we only voice the sympathy of all in our own. Quite a number of friends of the family from the city were in attendance at the funeral.

At Presbyterian service Sunday night. Scripture lesson Prov. 4th chapter; text, Prov. 4th chapter, 18 and 19 verses.
"But the path of the just is as the shining light, that shineth more and more into the perfect day."
"The way of the wicked is darkness; they know not at what they stumble."
The Rev. Leonard used as an example to illustrate the lives of Moody, the greatest of modern evangelists, and of Rogers, the greatest of modern agnostics.
His discourse was clear, logical and convincing. Owing to illness in their families, several members of the choir were absent. Singing by the congregation, led by Mrs. Light, Miss Nina Scofield, organist.
